SNODGRASS SPEAKS TO H. S. GRADUATES

MONEY IS ONLY ONE FORM OF CAPITAL, HE SAYS

WOLFERS GIVES DIPLOMAS

John Allan DeMotte Is Valedictorian Of School's Largest Class—Ruth Houchens, Salutatorian

Money is not the only form of capital to be used in the making of a successful life, the Rev. R. E. Snodgrass told the sixty-nine members of the 1921 graduating class of Maryville High School last night.

"Money is like electricity," he said "It is only stored-up power. It is a wonderful thing if it can be used in the right manner, but in itself it is of no value to the world."

The Commencement program was opened with the class march played by the High School Orchestra. The Rev. S. P. Allison gave the invocation, and John Allan DeMotte, bade farewell to classmates and teachers in a short valedictory in which was apparent the scholarship which won him first honors in the class.

Besides the sixty-nine diplomas, Supt. L. E. Ziegler announced the awarding of nine certificates from the commercial department of the High School and three certificates of proficiency in typewriting from the Underwood Typewriting Co.

Announces Honors

Six members of the graduating class, he announced, had averages for the four years higher than 90. The two highest were John Allan DeMotte with 91.32 and Ruth Houchens with 91.06. The former has his choice of scholarships at the State Teachers College here, the University of Missouri, and Westminster College. Miss Houchens may choose between scholarships offered by Drury College and Central College.

Principal H. O. Ezell presented the class to the board as one unusual not only in size but in quality. Their record of four years, he pointed out, showed excellence in scholarship athletics, literature and all school activities.

"It is a class of scholars, a class of athletes, a class of ladies and a class of gentlemen, and as such I present them to the Board of Education of Maryville High School," he finished.

Fred Wolfers, of the class of 1906, accepting the class in behalf of the Board and presenting the diplomas, took pity on the class sweltering in their caps and gowns:

"Is Mr. Cook, president of the school board, in the audience?" he began. "Mr. Cook, I would like to ask if it would meet with the approval of the school board if we presented these graduates with electric fans instead of diplomas."

He then made a short address explaining the significance of the diploma, received the class in behalf of the school board and made the awards.

The Class Address

"If I keep money in my pocket, it will do no one any good, not even myself," said the Rev. Snodgrass in his address. "Of course it must be loosed if it is to do the most good.How shall money be loosed? In various ways.

"One man says, "I shall get an education. I shall put the money back into my brain in order that I may be able to go back and make a better contribution to the world.' That is all right.

"Another man says, 'I am going to help my mother, who has toiled in order that I might have an education. I am going to send her a check in appreciation of her service and devotion.'

"Another man hears about a great work in China. He cannot go to China physically, personally, but he sends him selfrepresented by a thousand dollars, to preach the gospel and to help the heathen.

"It is a glorious thing to be able to make money. But we must understand that it is not ours and must be used for contributing to the world's good.

"On the walls of a penitentiary,

MEMORIAL DAY MESSAGE.

By F. W. Galbraith, Jr.
National Commander, the American Legion.

"Today a mighty nation bows its head in memory of the men who have died that the nation might live—men of Bunker Hill, of Gettysburg, of Santiago and of the Argonne.

"The American Legion joins the nation in its reverence for the dead; but the Legion also claims a deeper kinship for those who gloriously fell in the World War. For these men were our comrades-in-arms, linked to us by the strongest of ties.

"We shall visit every grave today, at home and abroad, and shall speak words of comfort to the dear ones who mourn. But we shall not only give, we shall receive. For, as we stand at their graves today our comrades will speak to us. They will remind us of the dangers that beset our beloved land, of the enemies, within and without; of the long fight that must be waged. The voice of our comrades come to us, like a call to arms. 'Fight on, fight on,' it urges us."

DESCRIBES FAMINE IN STARVING CHINA

REV. ALLISON RECEIVES LETTER FROM STRICKEN DISTRICT

PEOPLE EATING LEAVES

Tear Down Own Houses To Get Fuel To Burn—Mother and Babe Garmentless.

Famine conditions in Northern China are graphically described in a letter received by the Rev. S. P. Allison, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, from a former classmate who is now a missionary in the Orient. The young missionary made a tour through the stricken districts and helped in relief work. Excerpts from his letter are as follows:

"JaoYang was the poorest district that I saw, though there are poorer ones, I know, by the reports from other places.

"When I arrive there the poorer people were eating wheat sprouts and in some places, sweet potato vines, which was all the crop they got, the weather being too dry for potatoes. In some places where there were trees they were eating the seeds of a variety of the locust tree which are very bitter and have little nourishment, and constant eating makes the people sick.

"As there had been no crop of any kind in the neighborhood, there was no fuel. The people depend on the

BUSY DAY FOR RED CROSS YESTERDAY

TWENTY-THREE CHILDREN EXAMINED AT CLINIC

EX-SOLDIERS GET HELP

Home Service Department Answers Question on Public Land, Lost Discharges and Other Puzzlers

Twenty-three children were examined yesterday at the free weekly clinic held at the Red Cross Rooms under the direction of Miss Anna Heisler, county nurse. This is the largest number of children brought for examination and consultation since the inception of the clinics. Dr. W. M. Wallace, Sr. was the examining physician.

Seventeen of the parents who brought their children to the clinic were there for the first time. Others brought infants for a second or third examination to note increase in weight or improvement in health after feeding or treatment recommended at former clinics. Thirteen of the children were babies, eight were of pre-school age and two were school children.

One interesting thing found this week was bad teeth in two infants less than two years old. Their decay was probably due to faulty nutrition, according to Miss Heisler.

"We still insist that the feeding of children is the most important thing we have to consider in the child's growth," she declared.

Return visits are urged by Miss Heisler upon parents who bring their children to the clinics. Two babies yesterday she said, showed a most pleasing improvement after deficiencies in their diet had been corrected.

stalks and the roots of their grain for fuel, as coal and wood are very expensive. In ordinary years you can always see the women and children out in the fields gathering fuel, just as you can see the poor people gathering coal in the switchyards at home. They have a sort of rake here with a platform slung under it to catch the sticks as they are raked up, and a man could drag such a rake in the fields all day and never get it filled up so that he would have to empty it.

Eat Wheat Sprouts.

"Then just before New Year's day we got a big snow—about six inches of it. It was a wonderful thing for the next year's crop, but it cut them off from the wheat sprouts and the fuel. Some of the families in their desperation moved into one room and tore down the rest of the house, if they were lucky enough to have more than one room, and used the wreckage for fuel. The villages look folorn enough at best in the winter, but with these half demolished houses they look like some bits of devastated Belgium. You see the walls of these houses are made of bricks or mud, and the roof of tile and mud, so only the beams, rafters and thatch can serve for fuel. A house costs from eighty to one hundred dollars a room, which is quite a setback for any family.

"I could tell you of many pitiful scenes, but I don't like to dwell on them any more than you like to hear them. The people in the famine area have not received a decent crop in three years, and this year they got nothing at all except in the areas near a river that did not go dry; and even some of those were eaten out by the grasshoppers, as happened up in Laishui to the northwest of Pacting. Last fall before the rains that came then, the people were sitting around in despair, as they had no hope.

Wealthy Exploit Starving

"They had no crop and no hope for the next year, as the ground was too dry to plant the winter wheat. They were selling their land, animals and anything to get a little money with which to move or to prolong their life a little. The wealthy men and officials with some ready money have made a great haul by buying up land and animals at starvation prices, which they will resell again at a great profit. I will tell two incidents which will give you some idea of the suffering of the people.

"I went out one morning to investigate in the suburbs of the city and came to a home of one room, where there was a tiny red rag hanging over the door. This meant that a child had been born there less than a week before. I knocked at the door and in a moment a man stuck his head out of the crack where he had opened the door and asked what we wanted. When told, he opened the door wider that we could see all of the room, but stayed behind the the door himself. The reason was that he had only one garment—a long thin cloak—which did not cover up his bade legs, and he was ashamed to be seen.

"The mother lay on the brick bed which was covered by a straw mat, with the little baby cuddled in her arms the two of them covered by the only quilt in the place. Neither of them had any clothes on, which would not be so bad if the bed had been heated, for the Chinese often sleep naked, but with plenty of covers. These people had neither a warm bed nor enough bedding, and both were in need of warmth and food.

MEMORIAL DAY
I have a lover in the fields of France,
Where larks still sing and scarlet poppies wave.
There let him lie—I ask not his return
That my poor grief may tend a lonely grave.
There let him lie, among his comrades all,
In the world's common sepulchre and shrine;
The trysting-place of every nation's heart;
And let the common sorrow hallow mine.
But let me plant beside his resting-place,
Where fleur-de-lis and scarlet poppies nod,
A bit of beauty from his native land—
The yellow glory of our golden-rod.
There Belgium's bloom and Italy's fragrance blend;
There shamrock buds and purple heather grows;
There the fair lilies of the fields of France
Grow side by side with England's beauteous rose.
There, with the whispering maples and the pines,
With cypress black and fragrant laurel bloom,
The evening winds with gentle rapture blend
The breath of wattle and the southern broom.
O ask me not to take my love away—
We should be lonely for the fields of France.

Need More Funds

"Another home had six children and the mother. The father had gone off elsewhere in search of a living, but his family had heard nothing from him. The oldest child was a boy, fourteen years old, and the youngest a baby. They had no food in the house when I came, but said that the oldest boy and girl were out getting wheat sprouts and leaves. They had been fortunate to find a branch of a tree for fuel. The mother had not enough milk for the baby and so was feeding it a brownish liquid from a bottle to keep it from crying all the time.

"The population of our field is estimated to be 4,500,000 people, and from a third to a half of these people are in real need. We have money for the work we are doing now, but do not know how long it will continue to come in. We must keep these people whom we are helping until their next harvest.

"If we keep them for another month or two and our funds give out they will starve, and our money and efforts will have been wasted. We not only need to keep them from starving, but we need to advance them seed with which they may put in a spring crop and save us the necessity of keeping them another year.

"The Relief Committee knows no denominational lines, but is sending its funds for relief through whatever organization is in the field and capable of doing the work. So there are Catholics, Presbyterians, Congregationalists, Methodists, Baptists, Anglicans, the Salvation Army and some smaller independent bodies all at work under the union committee, branches of which are located in different parts of the stricken area."

these words are found: 'The verst day in a man's life is the day that he gets the idea that he can get a dollar without giving a dollar's work in return.'

"A second form of capital is brain power. The human mind is the most wonderful invention ever given to the world. It is very necessary today that we develop the brain. It used to be said that only professional men needed education. Today we cannot master anything without a pretty general education.

"In Appleton's Encyclopedia of Biography, only one out of ten thousand names is that of a man with only a common school education, while one out of every forty had a college education.

"The third form of capital is energy. Education and physical powers of every kind must be backed up by enthusiasm. Energy, ambition and enthusiasm must be form of capital possessed by you if you are to make your future life worth while.

"One of the best mottos I have ever heard is: 'Early to bed, and early to rise; hustle like thunder—and advertise.'

"The last form of capital is character, the most useful and the most important kind. 'When wealth is lost, nothing is lost; when health is lost, something is lost; when character is lost, all is lost.'

"It is easy in the world to be nothing. Be something.

"Use all these forms of capital to the greatest and highest good, that will bring to you the greatest reward of happiness and the benediction of our Heavenly Father."

Next Week At the Movies

AT THE EMPIRE.

"On With the Dance," a very popular Paramount picture featuring Mae Murry and David Powell, will be the headline attraction for Monday and Tuesday. Mae Murry plays the role of Sonia Varinoff, a pretty, pleasure-loving young Russian girl who comes to New York to join her father, a librarian to Schuylel Van Vechen, a wealthy aristocrat. Van Vechten's secretary Peter Oerwynt (David Powell), is in love with Lady Joane Eremelyn, who has been brought to this country by her mother to marry the rich and dissolute Jimmie Sutherland. Peter is given charge of Sonia. Sonia becomes infatuated with Peter. Misjudging appearances, Lady Joane thinks them in love and in despair marries Jimmie. And the lonely Peter, not caring much what happens and feeling sorry for Sonia, is wedded to the little Russian.

Shortly afterward Jimmie and Sonia meet. They attend dances together. Dancing is a passion with Sonia. She is intoxicated with her love for pleasure and, lacking funds to satisfy herself, accepts Jimmie's suggestion that she dance for money as a "masked dancer" in his big cabaret. Peter discovers her affair with Jimmie and is about to upbraid her for it when Jimmie counters with charges that Peter has been making love to Joane.

Angered at Jimmie's actions with Sonia and at his defamation of Joane, Peter seeks him out in the cabaret and shoots him dead. At the trial Sonia sacrifices her reputation to free Peter, then leaves him so that he may marry Joane. On the verge of despair she is sought by Schuyler Van Vechten, and the two are wedded.

On Wednesday and Thursday, the super-feature, "Partners of the Night" with an all star cast will be shown. The picture is taken from the well known story by Rex Beach. A Sennet comedy will be shown in addition Wednesday night and Pathe News and the third episode of June Caprice in "The Ranger" will be shown Thursday night. Not much advance information on Rex Beach's feature is available at the present time.

Ethel Clayton, Paramount star, displays not only marked emotional talent as an actress, but also proves a delightful dancer in her latest starring vehicle, "A City Sparrow," which will be shown Friday and Saturday.

The star is seen as a vaudeville dancer, who, after an accident, which results in the doctor's verdict that she can never become a mother, goes to the country to recuperate. She falls in love with David Muir and accepts his proposal of marriage, but not until the minute does she realize that she can never make him happy as a wife. Rather than reveal the truth she starts back to town. David overtakes her and when she confesses the truth they readily come to an understanding with each other.

The story is one of the sweetest ever told and contrasts the smoky city life with the refreshing beauty of Nature's realm. Clyde Fillmore is leading man and others in the cast who acquitted themselves well are Walter Hiers, William Boyd, Rose Cade, Robert Brower, Lillian Leighton, Bartine Burkett and Sylvia Ashton.

At The Electric

Larry Semon comedies are known for the acrobatic stunts and thrills contained in them. Larry has not disappointed his followers in "The Rent Collector," which will be shown Monday and Tuesday. Early in the picture he gives a policeman a motorcycle chase. The officer is thrown from the machine into a lake and is last seen sinking for the third time. Larry is catapulated from another motorcycle into a real estate office and lands a job. A little further on Larry climbs to a telegraph wire and is sliding across when the villianeuts he cable, causing the comedian to make a swing for life.

A woman is thrown from a balcony and lands in a barrel of travia, and the final thrill occurs when Larry and his leading woman are dumped over a precipice in an outomobile, which is completely wrecked.

All of these have a comedy twist and make the comedy one of the funniest Larry has produced.

In addition to the Larry Semon comedy, Corinne Griffith will appear in the leading role of the feature, "What's Your Repjutation Worth." She takes the part of Clara Deene, confidential secretary of Anthony Blake, successful business man. It is the strange story of a girl so impressed by a weird dream that she made it come true. This girl gave her reputation to the man she loved in order that he might find happiness. She had a hard struggle and went through many unusual adventures before she found happiness.

"The Saphead" a new picture Buster Keaton will be shown Wednesday and Thursday. The story concerns itself with New York society and the Stock Exchange. The wealthy father is a miner in Arizona, left a widower with two children, a boy and a girl. In addition he has a ward, a young lady. With a fortune accumulated in the mines he goes to New York and enters the financial world. liberally supplied with money but rather short on the brain supply, drifts into a fast set of wealthy young men about town. At his club he is known as the "Sap Head." Through a series of circumstances his trusting son is disinherited with only a check for $1,000,000 to see him through the world.

With his money he purchases a seat on the Stock Exchange and as his first venture proceeds to buy in the stock of a mine which is owned by his father but which is being sold by the false son-in-law. The disinherited son does not know it is his father's stock but his action has saved the financial king from ruin and the scheming brother-in-law finding his plans brought to naught conveniently effaces himself while "The Saphead" is welcomed back into the family and wins the girl of his choice.

On Friday night the next episode of William Duncan in "Fighting Fate" and two reels of comedy and a two reel western.

Eugene O'Brien fans, and there are many, will have the pleasure of seeing the star in the best production he has made during his entire screen career when the Selznick Picture, "Worlds Apart," comes to this theatre next Saturday night.

Mr. O'Brien plays the part of Hugh Ledyard, a scion of an old, illustrious family, who is jilted by the girl of his choice because of her desire for more money. His dreams shattered, and bitter against all mankind, he marries a girl whom he has met through his intervening when she attempts suicide. They live together for appearance sake, he never knowing anything of her past until a guest at their home, a rough, uncouth individual, for whom Hugh has been turned down by his former sweetheart, is killed. A servant accused of the crime, turns out to be his wife's father.

The manner in which the mystery is solved is an entirely original one, and the injection of an Oriental atmosphere into the story adds greatly to its interest.

Mrs. C. C. Corwin will leave this afternoon for Edmund, Oklahoma, to spend Decoration Day and visit a week with her brother, Lieut. Colonel E. H. Jayne.

ILLINOIS BUILDS ROAD TO TEST TYPES OF PAVEMENT

Highway Engineers Will Observe Effects of All Kinds of Traffic On Various Material

A sensible solution of the road question is being worked out by the state of Illinois. The state highway department has under construction an experimental road containing sixty four test sections, each section differing from the other in design. The types of pavement used include macadam base with asphalt surface, macadam with brick top, concrete base with brick and asphalt top and regular concrete roads, both plain and reinforced.

This road is now practically completed but will be allowed to harden for several months. The testing will probably commence in the fall. The trials will consist of a passage of trucks over the road first carrying light loads and then gradually increasing the loads. Equipment of all types will be used in these tests. Careful records will be made then analyzed by expert highway engineers of the Illinois department and bulletins issued.

This is an example of a sane and fair method of attacking the problem and will be watched with interest by highway engineers and the general public.

SKIDMORE PLANS PROGRAM FOR DECORATION DAY

Kuntzman Funeral Will be Tomorrow Morning, With Decoration of Graves Tuesday.

Plans are under way for the observance of Memorial Day at Skidmore, but are far from complete, says the Skidmore News. Only a few were present at the meeting at the Legion rooms Monday evening, and no plans could be made. The program committee consisting of one representative of the Legion, one Odd Fellow and one Woodman, appointed at that time met Tuesday evening.

Military and memorial funeral services will be held Sunday morning for John R. Kuntzman. The memorial address will be delivered by Rev. Hugh McClellan, at the Christian church at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, May 30, after which the graves will be decorated.

The plans at the present time are rather indefinite, but seem to be, in general, about as follows:

The three organizations participating in the exercises will meet at their regular meeting places—the Legion, and all other ex-soldiers, at the Legion rooms, Odd Fellows and Woodmen at the Odd Fellows Hall—after which they will all meet at some convenient point, probably near the band stand, and march to the church. The soldiers, veterans of the Civil, Spanish-American and World Wars, will head the procession, and will be followed by the lodges. Special seats will be reserved for them at the church.

Exact plans for the decoration of graves have not been announced, but the Legion will probably decorate all soldiers' graves while the fraternal orders will decorate the graves of their respective former members.

The following committees have been appointed:

Program Committee.

Forrest Weddle (Legion).
L. D. Jordan (Odd Fellow).
Geo. Patterson, (Woodman).

Flower Committees.

Legion — Chas. McDaniel, Ralph Wright, Pierre Karr, Homer Aldridge, Delavan Robbins.

Music Committee.

What One Woman Did

A certain woman, the wife of a wealthy jobber, inherited all of her husband's Estate which consisted, besides his interest in the business, of the contents of a Safe Deposit Box of carefully chosen investments. The inheritance was given outright with no provision for its care of protection.

This woman felt that she was not qualified to manage the business and to collect the income. "What shall I do?" was her paramount question. She went to her bank and there she found her answer. The Trust Department arranged to relieve her entirely of all care and worry, assured her of the judicious reinvestment of income funds and left her free to go and come, without concern of her fortune.

Women are cordially invited to talk with us about their Trust problems, such interviews are always held in strict confidence, and without obligations or expense.

FOUR DOCTORS GAVE HER UP

Through a Neighbor's Advice This Woman Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Kenosha, Wis.—"I suffered with a female trouble and at last was in bed for six weeks with what the doctors called inflammation of the bowels. Four of them said I could not live. A neighbor told me to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped me from the start. When the doctor came I told him what I had taken and he said, 'Throw my medicine away and keep on with the Pinkham medicine.' I did and it cured me. If more women would take your medicine they would not suffer so. I have recommended the Vegetable Compound to lots of people and they have been satisfied."—Mrs. MARY RHAPSTOCK, 270½ Wisconsin St., Kenosha, Wisconsin.

When a woman is beset with such symptoms as irregularities, inflammation, ulceration, a displacement, backache, headaches, bearing-down pains, nervousness or the "blues" she should treat the cause of such conditions by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the standard remedy for woman's ills.

gard to making the nursing service of even more value.

Miss Betty Turner, home service secretary for the Red Cross, also had a busy day Saturday. One former soldier, formerly a resident of this county but now living in Colorado, visited the rooms to secure help in making application for government land. He also secured a victory medal through the home service department and made application to the adjutant-general for a discharge to replace his original discharge which has been lost.

Another former service man was from the vicinity of Bolckow and came to secure a victory medal. A third came from south of Maryville to confer about securing hospital treatment and vocational training, and a fourth from five miles west of Burlington Junction to file a disability claim.

Should Make Claims Now

Miss Turner urges all former service men who intend to make claims for compensation or training because of disability incurred during the war to make their claims at once.

"It gets harder all the time, to get action on the claims," she says. "It will be just twice as hard next year as it is this year. Men with claims to make should not delay in securing the necessary blanks and filling them out."

Dr. L. E. Dean, United States public health examiner for Nodaway County, reports all hospital cases of ex-service men to the home service department of the Red Cross. A case was reported last week, and Miss Turner paid the patient what the department terms a "friendly visit." She found that the man's compensation had been stopped, and efforts are now being made to continue the aid while he is wholly or partially disabled. These hospital visits are a part of the Nodaway County Red Cross and offer assistance if needed.

Does the "Little Things."

The department also writes letters of condolence to parents of the boys whose bodies are being returned home. The notes extend the sympathy of the Nodaway County Red Cross and offer assistance if needed.

A case of a dependent mother failing to receive insurance after the death of her soldier son was reported to the home service department by Miss Heisler on one of her trips over the county. Miss Turner immediately drove there and communication has now been opened with the War Risk Insurance Bureau to determine why the insurance is being held up.

REFERENDUM PETITIONS GETTING MANY SIGNERS

County Chairman Dan R. Baker Receives Message That 2,000 Will Affix Names in St. Joseph

Two thousand signers to referendum petitions on measures passed by the last legislature will be secured in St. Joseph by tonight, according to a telephone message received this morning by Dan R. Baker, chairman of the Democratic county organization. Petitions being circulated there had the signatures of sixteen hundred voters at the time he received the message, Mr. Baker said.

There will be three hundred signatures secured in Atchison county and at least two hundred in Worth county by tonight, the same message said.

The Democratic organization in this county is making no very concerted effort to get signers, but there are a number of petitions being circulated and about a hundred signers have been secured. Mr. Baker predicts that there will be at least two hundred and fifty by the time they must be filed. The petitions should be ready for filing by June 1, he said.

The signatures of one-fifth of the qualified voters of the state are required to submit a measure passed by the legislature to a referendum. One fifth of the voters in two-thirds of the congressional districts or eleven of the sixteen must sign the petitions.

STUDENTS WANT ROOMS FOR LIGHT HOUSE KEEPING

Accomodations of This Type Are Hard To Find, Says Mrs. Alice Perrin.

Many young married people are among the teachers who will attend the summer term at the State Teachers College, says Mrs. Alice Perrin, who is directing the incoming students to rooming places. These couples, together with many girls, are looking for light house keeping rooms, and the supply is rapidly becoming exhausted, she says.

Mrs. Perrin asks that people who have rooms, especially light house keeping rooms, list them with her. She also suggests that those who have rented rooms already should telephone her in order to avoid sending the new students on fruitless errands. A number of these who will attend the summer term have already arrived, but the bulk of them will come on trains tonight and tomorrow.
